Dear Bill,

Earlier this year, [] gave an outstanding presentation on the various threats confronting the industrial security sector. The reaction throughout our company was highly favorable both from the technical and administrative personnel, as well as from security professionals.

STAT

Bob is a fine speaker and his visual aids are particularly effective.

If at all possible, Bill, we would very much like to have Bob return to [] sometime within the next six months to give at least three separate presentations to approximately 70 employees each. These could be done in one day or spread out over several days, depending on your wishes. We are certain there are other contractors in the area that would also welcome his return.

STAT

Thank-you again for your cooperation and assistance in this very critical area.

Sincerely,

[]

Manager of Security
